THEATRE—DAN MARBLE'S BENEFIT.—The attention of the theatre going public is invited to the bill of fare offered at the National this evening. We have not had the pleasure of witnessing the performances of this company, but understand, as we should judge is the fact from the names in the bills, that very general satisfaction has been expressed by all who have visited the theatre during the brief season which closes with this night's entertainments.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Mr. Editor: Permit me, through your widely circulated little paper, to notice a few facts, which, if they do no good, can certainly do no harm; and I am rather inclined to think many will be benefited by them, or rather will be saved the trouble of soliciting, and the mortification of being denied, a seat in the choir, or that portion set apart for the choir, of the Wesley Chapel of this city.

Last Sabbath morning, like many others, I repaired at an early hour to that house, in hope of obtaining a seat, knowing that it would be crowded, information having been given that several ministers were to be ordained. On my arrival at the church, I found it, as I anticipated, quite full—nearly every seat in the main body of the building crowded. The galleries were in much the same condition, with the exception of that portion set apart for the choir, in which, at that time, there were not more than one dozen of both sexes. Seeing so large a space unoccupied, and at the same time a stranger in that church, I was about to seat myself, (not in front, but in a remote corner,) when I was very significantly told to depart—that this was the place for the singers—and a little door, the only entrance on that side, shut in my face. Of course I said nothing, but crowded myself into a seat among a very unruly set of boys. But mark the sequel, and the impropriety, to lay aside the injustice of the act. But a few minutes had elapsed when I saw the very man who had ordered me out, and many others beside me, culling from the crowd that pressed up the stairs, his friends and acquaintances, I suppose. Suffice it to say, that large portion of the church, capable of holding from sixty to seventy persons, was filled, and had it been by the choir alone, no reasonable person could object to being prohibited; but one-third of the number (so I was informed) were those who had nothing to do with it.

In conclusion, I would ask, is this the spirit of Methodism? and is this the treatment we must expect from the only denomination who boast of free seats and no restriction? No! I rather think it is not generally the case—and, in fact, I know it is not; and I believe, were the trustees acquainted with such high-handed authority on the part of the leader of the choir, or any that belong to it, they would arrange it otherwise, particularly on such occasions.

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS,

FIRST SESSION.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1844.

SENATE.

TARIFF.

Mr. STURGEON presented four memorials, remonstrating against any change in the existing Tariff. Also, resolutions of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, "instructing their Senators and requesting their Representatives" to oppose the new Tariff bill. These resolutions were passed in the House unanimously by a vote of 81, in the Senate by a vote of 30 to 1. Mr. S. said that this singular unanimity, in a body which differed so widely upon most other questions, spoke for itself. Mr. S. went into some details to show what would be the effect on the Pennsylvania iron interest, if the proposed reduction of duties, especially that which provides that only 30 per cent. shall be imposed upon manufactured iron.

Mr. BUCHANAN, memorials to the same effect. Mr. MERRICK, four memorials from Allegany co., Md., numerous signed, (and every voter might have been obtained for them,) praying against any reduction of the duties on coal and iron.

REPORTS.

Mr. BERRIEN, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill to raise the salary of the Judge of the Western District of Virginia. Also, adversely upon the House bill for the relief of Joseph Ramsay.

Mr. ARCHER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported, with an amendment, the joint resolution, giving the thanks of Congress to the officers and crew of her Britannic Majesty's ship Malabar.

PENSION BILL.

Mr. BAYARD moved the reconsideration of the vote passing this bill, so as to change the phraseology of the clause which provides that no officer in the Army or Navy, as such, should receive a pension, and make it read that no person shall draw a pension who is in receipt of pay as an officer of the Army or Navy, unless the alleged disability is such as to occasion his employment in a lower grade, or in some civil capacity. The motion prevailed, and the bill, as amended, was passed.

RETRENCHMENT.

Mr. HAYWOOD introduced a batch of bills for reducing the salaries of the President of the United States, Judges of the Supreme Court, Secretaries, &c. The President is to have, after the 4th of March, $15,000 per annum, the use of the mansion house, and a reasonable allowance for fuel, &c. The bills were referred.

The bill, as amended by the House, to change the place of holding the Circuit Court in Ohio from Cincinnati to Columbus, after some debate between Messrs. MOREHEAD, TAPPAN, and ALLEN, was passed.

POST OFFICE BILL.

The Senate then took up Mr. Merrick's Post Office bill, and after some discussion thereon, the Senate adjourned until Monday next.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

SUB-TREASURY.

Mr. WELLER called up a resolution of the Committee of Ways and Means for printing 15,000 extra copies of Mr. Dromgoole's report.

The previous question was moved, but no quorum voted.

Mr. DROMGOOLE moved a call of the House, and on this motion the yeas and nays were taken, and the call was refused. The 15,000 extras of this document were then ordered to be printed by 108 to 51.

[NOTE.—This makes 35,000 party documents which the majority have ordered within a week; 20,000 of Van Buren's British tariff, and 15,000 of the condemned Sub-Treasury. At the same time, propositions to print equal numbers of the minority reports have been summarily thrown out.]

PUNCTUAL ATTENDANCE.

Mr. G. DAVIS, of Ky., submitted the following, to be added to the standing rules of the House:

Resolved, That immediately on the Speaker's taking the Chair, the Clerk shall call the roll, and enter upon the journal the names of members present, and also of those absent.

The yeas and nays were called upon a motion to suspend the rules, which was lost—yeas 85, noes 86.

THE BANKS.

Mr. M. BROWN desired the adoption of a resolution supplemental to that passed yesterday, so that the Secretary of the Treasury should be required to report more correct information in reference to the banks. Objections were made, and the motion to suspend the rules was lost—so that the majority will get another ex-parte report for printing and circulation.

OREGON.

Mr. WENTWORTH called up a resolution offered sometime since by him for printing 10,000 extra copies of a report on the Oregon from the Committee on Territories. The printing was ordered, making 25,000 extra ordered to-day.

THE MASSACHUSETTS RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. DROMGOOLE, Chairman of the Select Committee to whom was referred the resolutions of the Legislatures of Alabama and Virginia, replying to those of Massachusetts on the subject of amending the Constitution in reference to slave representation, asked leave to report, and the subject came unexpectedly before the House.

Mr. DROMGOOLE said the Committee had made a very brief report, concluding with two resolutions; they had carefully avoided reference to any exciting topic, such as would be likely to give umbrage to anybody. The resolutions were read.

The first, declares that the articles referred to (which the Massachusetts resolutions propose to change), were adopted in a spirit of mutual compromise, and ought to be held sacred by the friends of the Union. The second, that the proposed change ought not to be recommended by Congress, but ought to be promptly and decidedly condemned.

Mr. DROMGOOLE, as soon as the resolutions were read, moved the previous question.

Mr. ADAMS rose.

The SPEAKER said the question was not debatable. Mr. ADAMS said he did not propose to debate, but rose to ask the gentleman from Virginia to withdraw the previous question, and move the reference of the report to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. DROMGOOLE declined; he desired to avoid discussion.

Mr. ABBOTT (a member of the Select Committee) wished to know why he had never been notified to attend any session of the committee. The report just made was the first he knew of the subject having been considered in committee at all.

Mr. DROMGOOLE said he had issued a notice to each member, and placed it in the hands of a Page. The gentleman was not notified because he was present. Other members of the committee, Mr. Brengle of Md., and Mr. Strong of N. Y., were reported as at home. The majority of the committee met at the room of the Committee of Ways and Means, and agreed to this report.

Mr. WINTHROP moved a call of the House, which was refused.

Mr. Dromgoole's report, covering only a few lines, was then read. The report says that the committee have maturely considered the subject, and regard this movement as a design to dissolve the Union; that the amendment prayed for would produce a peaceable or violent dissolution; that all efforts to procure such an amendment as is asked, ought to be rebuked.

The report having been read, Mr. WINTHROP demanded the yeas and nays on ordering the main question. The vote was yeas 118, noes 57.

Mr. PARMENTER, of Mass., thought the question too important to be thus summarily disposed of, and moved to lay the subject on the table. Yeas 43, noes 132.

The SPEAKER here announced that the morning hour had expired.

Mr. DROMGOOLE moved to suspend the rules, in order to dispose of the subject at this time. Agreed to.

The first resolution was adopted by 156 to 18. Mr. HUNT, of N. Y., called for a division of the question on the second resolution, but the Speaker said it was not susceptible of division. It was also adopted by 127 to 41.

Mr. CLINGMAN, of N. C., before the vote was announced, said he had not read the resolution until now, and he would now vote no.

Mr. STENROD, of Va., moved a reconsideration, which was refused, and thus this matter was ended.

PRIVATE CALENDAR.

The motion of Mr. VANCE, of Ohio, the House took up the calendar of private bills.

During this week many memorials and petitions have been presented. The following have been handed up for insertion:

By Mr. IRVIN: The following memorials, all numerous signed, viz:

One from citizens of Columbia county; one from Centre county; one from Milford county; one from Huntingdon county; one from Philadelphia county; one from Northumberland county; one from Union county; and one from Berks county, in the State of Pennsylvania.

Stating that the Tariff of 1842 had produced and is now producing very beneficial effects in restoring the trade and business of the country, and in the employment of the labor and industry of our people, and most earnestly praying that no change whatever be made in that system, unless experience shall have demonstrated, by ascertained facts, that such change would be for the better. The memorialists state that their furnaces, forges, cotton mills, and workshops, that but one year ago were abandoned, are now again full of life and activity, and the employment that was lately given to foreign capitalists and artisans is now secured for our own people. They therefore pray Congress to abstain from all legislation upon the subject of the Tariff, and thereby give peace and prosperity to the country.

By Mr. E. JOY MORRIS: The memorial of citizens of Burke county, Pennsylvania, representing the prosperous condition of the country under the Tariff of 1842, and protesting against its repeal.

Also, the petition of citizens of Philadelphia, asking an appropriation for the repair of the shipping piers at Port Penn, on the Delaware.

By Mr. McILVAINE: The memorial of Hugh E. Steele and 53 others, citizens of Chester county, Pennsylvania, remonstrating against any change in the present Tariff laws.

The memorial of William Janney and 68 others, citizens of Pennsylvania, remonstrating against the admission of Texas into the American Union.

The memorial of Henry Hooper and 33 others, remonstrating against any alteration of the present Tariff.

CITIZENS' BALL.

FOR THE ERECTION OF A LYCEUM HALL. THE members of the Metropolitan Lyceum, having received the most flattering encouragement from the citizens of Washington, beg leave respectfully to inform their friends and the public generally that they will give a Citizens' Ball on Monday, April 8, 1844, at Carusi's Saloon, the proceeds to be applied for the erection of a Lyceum Hall.

As the citizens of Washington are well aware there is not a single edifice in the Metropolis of the Union which is dedicated to the cause of literature, although our sister city of Alexandria can boast of a splendid hall, which has been erected by the generous beneficence of the citizens of that place; and it is, therefore, with the utmost confidence that we rely upon their aid and support in the praiseworthy undertaking in which we are engaged.

The ball will be under the entire control of the Metropolitan Lyceum, and they pledge themselves that nothing on their part shall be wanting to give satisfaction to all those who shall honor them with their presence.

The following gentlemen have been selected as Managers:

W. W. Seaton, F. W. Thomas, R. C. Weightman, Charles McNamee, J. H. Bradley, J. Holland, Wm. Campbell, James F. Haliday, James H. Durham, O. Denham, Charles S. Wallach, George Hilbus, John Boyle, E. F. Buckingham.

Committee of Arrangements. D. H. Durham, C. D. Bishop, H. T. Micklum, F. W. Eckloff, E. C. Eckloff, Thomas Caton, Wm. B. Cole, J. P. Freeman.

There will be no bar. Refreshments for the gentlemen on the most moderate terms.

A sufficient number of servants having been engaged, no others will be admitted.

Tickets only $1.50 (ample refreshments for the ladies included), to be had from the Committee of Arrangements, W. Fischer's, Buckingham's drug store; Parquhar & Morgan, First Ward, and at the door on the evening of the ball. mar 19—2w
